

Model's estimated correlation matrix recovers known biological similarities between cell types

